

Hey there, you...

Experienced, mission-driven Co-Founder/COO (m/f)

what makes you truly #happy?

Help build the next impact unicorn: Digital mentor for the pursuit of happiness zantor is a digital mentor delivering science-based inspiration for the pursuit of happiness, and helping turn ideas into projects to realize them with liked-minded people.

We envision a society in which every life is a continuous exploration of fulfilling things – with changes seen as opportunities. We are a team of fun professionals working together on something meaningful: Foster individual happiness and build a more positive society.

Our product is live with great feedback from customers, but we need to take zantor to the next level. For this, we are looking for the most amazing seasoned Co-Founder, who shares our mission and is excited about doing the right thing.

Key challenges

- Drive traction by helping us reach more customers with our product
- Find and engage partners for collaboration and monetization
- Refine our product offering for optimal Product-Market Fit
- Co-develop our long-term strategy and vision

Profile

- 8+ years experience in a fast-paced, project-driven work environment, ideally in Ops, BizDev, Consulting, Sales, or similar roles
- Experience and ideally a network in the start-ups, digital businesses world or in social entrepreneurship and research
- Hands-on, get-sh-done approach – while enjoying the ride
- Strong entrepreneurial mindset and fun team player
- A deep passion for finding purpose and happiness in life

What we offer

- A great team with decades of experience & a great start-up network in UK & DE
- A chance to truly matter and shape the next impact unicorn
- The shared passion for a meaningful cause and a long-term perspective
- Equity
- Fun & Purpose (we are bootstrapping, hence this has to be your initial salary...)

That's you? Let's chat: valentin@zantor.me